Tasting Notes

A highly complex Pinot Noir. The rich red hue entices the eye, and is not disappointed by the intense black currant aromas the nose finds in the glass. Yet again, the palate confirms the promise of intense, fruitful flavors with subtle oak and vanilla nuances. The elegant characteristics of this red are followed by a pleasantly long and smooth finish. An impressive Pinot Noir from the Rheingau, rich, full-bodied, and elegant. Perfect accompaniment to rich dishes.

Vintage 2015

This was a year of extremes. A summer of record-high temperatures was interrupted occasionally by brief cold fronts. Early September brought on a bout of formidable rains, which finally turned into a dry harvest period yielding excellent quality grapes.

Vinification

The fruit was thinned from the vines, reducing the yield by almost 50 percent and allowing the plants to put all their resources into the remaining grapes. After harvesting and destemming, about 15% of the fresh juice was siphoned off in order to enhance the complexity and color intensity of the red wine. Seven days of cold maceration to boost aromas was followed by 7 further days of fermentation on the skins. Finally, the wine was separated from the skins and matured in French oak barrels for 24 months.

Prinz von Hessen

The wine estate, located in the town of Johannisberg in the small German wine-growing region of the Rheingau, is one of the most significant Riesling producers in Germany. International and domestic recognition reflects the excellence in quality of the wines and sparkling wines. Prinz von Hessen's Riesling grapes flourish in some of the best vineyard sites the Rheingau has to offer, amongst them Klaus in the town of Johannisberg, and Hasensprung and Jesuitengarten in Winkel. 95% of the cultivation is devoted to the Riesling grape.
